

King County DNRP Water Quality Index

STATION 311 WATER YEAR 2018

GAUGE # 03H Green River at Interurban S

Overall Index 76

King County has monitored water quality in the Green-Duwamish River at five locations. Station 0311 is located in the Lower Green River a few hundred yards upstream from the former outfall at the Renton Junction Bridge on West Valley Road at Highway 1. Sampling began in 1970 but was discontinued between 2008 and 2014 when budget cutbacks reduced the breadth of King County's water quality monitoring program. The Green-Duwamish runs 93 miles from the crest of the Cascade Mountains to Elliot Bay. The Green-Duwamish River is on the Washington State Department of Ecology's 303(d) list, Category 5, for violations of the dissolved oxygen standards, and Category 4a for temperature violations.

Annual Water Quality Index Scores

Water quality was MODERATE based on data collected 10/1/2017 to 9/30/2018.

WQI Score Comparison By Water Year

About The Water Quality Index:

The Water Quality Index (WQI) score is a unit-less number ranging from 10 to 100: the higher the number, the higher the water quality. Scores are calculated from data collected during the monthly routine sampling. For temperature, pH, fecal coliform bacteria, turbidity, and dissolved oxygen, the index expresses results relative to levels required to maintain beneficial uses according to criteria in Washington's Water Quality Standards, WAC 173-201A. For nutrient and sediment measures where there are no standard, results are expressed relative to guidelines for this eco-region. Results from the eight parameters are aggregated over time to produce a single score for each sample station. In general, stations scoring 80 and above did not fail water quality standards or guidelines and are of "low concern", scores 40 to 80 indicate "moderate concern", and water quality at stations with scores below 40 are of "high concern".
